Weekly Picks From the Band

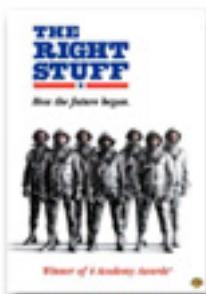

Book of the Week

The Girl With The Dragon Tattoo by Stieg Larsson focuses on crusading journalist Mikael Blomkvist, recently at the wrong end of a libel case, who is then hired to investigate a woman's disappearance from 40 years ago. Enter genius hacker Lisbeth Salander—twenty-four, pierced, and tattooed, equipped with hard-earned wisdom of someone twice her age... and the ruthlessness to go with it.

Movie of the Week

The Right Stuff is a 1983 American film adapted from Tom Wolfe's 1979 book by the same title, and tells the story of test pilots involved in high-speed aeronautical research at Edwards Air Force Base as well as those selected to be astronauts for Project Mercury, the United States' first attempt at manned spaceflight. The story contrasts the "Mercury Seven" and their families with pilots like Chuck Yeager, who was considered by many test pilots to be the best of them all, but was never selected as an astronaut.

Album of the Week

AC/DC's Highway to Hell is the sixth studio album by the Australian hard rock band, released in July 1979. It is also AC/DC's fifth international studio album, and the last album featuring lead singer Bon Scott, who died early the following year.

Restaurant of the Week
